Color Comes From Silt
Like all glacier-fed lakes, Canada's Lake Louise gets its emerald color from tiny particles
of glacial silt held in suspension, according to scientists. These particles cause refraction of the light's rays as they fall on the lake's surface.

900 Enemy Dead in Tay Ninh Battle

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Viet Nam
(AP) — U.S. commanders sent another brigade of 4,000 men to the Tay Ninh front today as the reported enemy toll in just over a week of fighting rose to 900
dead.

An estimated 25,000 or more Americans have been committed to the operation to rout out the enemy from the Viet Cong stronghold 60 miles northwest of Saigon near the Cambodian border.
An American Military
spokesman reported the operation, named Attleboro, is "the largest U.S. action" of the Viet Nam war.

U.S. ground forces reported killing 20 Viet Cong in new fighting and finding 15 more bodies of enemy killed in earlier fighting to bring the Communist toll to 900. U.S. casualties for the operation were still reported light over-all, although some units were hit hard in the early fighting.

B-52 bombers supported the ground forces with attacks on Viet Cong base camps today for the second straight day. The bombers dropped their bombs
23 miles northeast of Tay Ninh
City.

In the Mekong Delta, the Viet Cong launched a mortar, rocket and small arms attack on a dependents' camp of Vietnamese regional forces and killed or wounded 46 South Vietnamese,
most of them wives or children of militiamen stationed in the provincial capital of Chuong Thien, 102 miles southwest of Saigon.

On the political front, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky announced that two more cabinet ministers were leaving his government.
This brought to four the numbers of ministers who have resigned in weeks of dissension between civilian cabinet ministers from South Viet Nam and the natives of North Viet Nam who dominate Ky's military junta.

The resignations raised no immediate threat to Ky's government. Ky and the other generals of the junta hold the power,
and the civilians in the cabinet have a mostly advisory role.
Bad weather again curtailed
the air war against North Viet Nam Thursday. U.S. pilots flew 83 bombing missions, about half the usual number on a good day. They concentrated on water traffic, storage and staging areas in the southern panhandle and the Hanoi and Haiphong areas.

An Air Force A1E Skyraider
was shot down by Communist ground fire over North Viet Nam today. The pilot of the propeller-driven craft bailed out just north of the demilitarized zone and was rescued unhurt, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The spokesman said the Skyraider was the 422nd American plane lost over the North, including two not previously announced. In a periodic summary of American air losses, he said four U.S. helicopters have been downed over the North during the war, while U.S. losses in South Viet Nam now total 133

planes and 215 helicopters.

Except for the Tay Ninh front,
only small-scale sporadic
ground fighting was reported.

Republicans Post Gains in Legislatures

By DICK BARNES
WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have gained 19 chambers and about 700 seats in state legislatures, most of them apparently as a side effect of their gubernatorial and congressional election comeback.

The biggest GOP legislative surge from Tuesday's balloting
was in the Midwest, an Associated Press survey shows. Republicans recaptured the Senate and created a House tie in Michigan, and picked up one house in each of five other Midwest states.

Republicans won over both houses in Alaska, Arizona,
Maine and Utah.

Only in Connecticut was there a major Democratic victory — but it came mostly because ancient rural - oriented boundaries of the General Assembly were redrawn to give urban areas equal voice.

But state after state reported
Republican legislative pickups about in line with statewide or congressional races.

Many victories simply canceled gains the Democrats had registered in normally Republican states during the 1964 Johnson landslide, when Republicans lost 529 seats.

In several states, reapportionment changed the size of law-making bodies, complicating precise before-and-after comparisons. And scattered races remained in doubt, such as the two-vote victory by one Republican in Hawaii.

But the approximate totals showed Republicans gaining nearly 900 seats in 68 of the 87 chambers for which there was balloting. Democrats cut the net GOP gain back to about 700 by gaining in 12 chambers — but 129 seats of their pickup came in the huge Connecticut assembly, where a 3-2 Republican margin was turned into a 2-1
Democratic edge.

The over-all results leave 29
state senates in Democratic hands, 19 with Republicans and one tied. Democrats control 25 lower houses to 23 for the Republicans and one tied.

Democrats control both houses in 24 states, Republicans in 17. Eight states have divided control and Nebraska has a unicameral non partisan legislature.

Organized Labor Took a Substantial Beating in Tuesday's Vote

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor took a substantial drubbing in Tuesday's election,
primarily in the House.

Some 37 House members who supported labor on most key votes in the last session were defeated for re-election and another 13 retired. Only a handful of labor foes were beaten or have retired.

The result cast considerable doubt on the prospects for revival next year of such labor-supported measures as unemployment compensation reform and repeal of Section 14B of the Taft-Hartley Act which permits states to ban the union shop under which workers must join unions.

A tally today showed that 47
House members who voted last year to repeal Section 14B will be missing from the House in January, 35 through defeat. Two others were beaten in Senate bids. Only 18 House members who opposed repeal will be gone, most through retirement.

Most of the 47 were among 39 defeated members who voted to bring small businesses under minimum wage coverage and were among 33 beaten congressmen who opposed GOP efforts to slow down minimum wage hikes.

The 14B repeal move faltered
in the Senate and was abandoned after Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen led a fil-buster against it. But it became an issue in a number of campaigns this fall.

Reed Larson, executive vice president of the National Right to Work Committee, the principal national group opposing repeal, said in an interview today that the issue "contributed substantially to the majority by which the administration was repudiated" in Tuesday's balloting.

San Marino Crisis Appears Over

SAN MARINO (AP) — After a 100-day crisis, the tiny republic of San Marino today got back
the same coalition government
it has had since 1957.

The alliance of Christian Democrats and Democratic Socialists broke up Aug. 2 after the Socialists joined the Communists and passed a bill abolishing absentee balloting for the nearly 2,000 San Marinese living abroad.

After discussing all sorts of possibilities, the Christian Democrats and Democratic Socialists decided remarriage was the only workable solution.

The Communists stormed out of Parliament.

San Marino, the world's oldest and smallest republic, has 17,- 000 residents and an area of 38 square miles on top of a mountain surrounded by northern Italy.

Gemini 12 Countdown on Schedule

By HOWARD BENEDICT
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) —
America's Gemini project, a major bridge to the moon, reaches the end of the trail today with the scheduled blastoff of a veteran astronaut and a rookie on a four-day flight that may determine man's physical limitations in space.

The pilots, Navy Capt. James
A. Lovell Jr. and Air Force
Maj. Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. slept late in preparation for their big day. Adjusting to hours they will keep in orbit, they went to bed about 2 a.m. today and were to be awakened about 11:30 a.m.

The Gemini 12 doubleheader was to start at 2:08 p.m. with the blazing liftoff of an Atlas rocket to hoist an Agena target satellite into orbit.

Lovell and Aldrin were to ride into space at 3:46 p.m. atop a Titan 2 to start the five-mile-a-second pursuit of the Agena.

Troubles with an automatic pilot system in the Titan 2
forced the original Wednesday launch date to slip 48 hours.

The problems were cleared up Thursday and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration flashed the go-ahead for the mission to start today.

While sweeping 58 times around the globe in their tiny space chariot, command pilot Lovell, veteran of last year's 14-
day Gemini 7 flight, and Aldrin, making his first space trip, are to exploit lessons learned on nine previous two-man Gemini journeys.

Major goal is to learn if man can work effectively outside an orbiting ship in a pressurized suit. Space walkers experienced troubles moving about on the last three Gemini flights and raised a question whether astronauts will be able to perform complex tasks slated for later space flights.

Aldrin plans three excursions outside totaling nearly five hours. He is to take a two-hour space walk and conduct two "space stands" during which he is to poke his head through an open hatch.

During the walk he'll pace himself carefully, stopping to rest often and using aids such as handrails and foot restraints to help him move about.

These were highlights of the Gemini 12 flight plan:

Today: Gemini 12 catches and links up with Agena during the fourth orbit, about four hours after launching, practicing many maneuvers that Apollo astronauts must make on return trips from the moon. Lovell and Aldrin fire Agena engine to shoot to altitude of 460 miles.

Saturday: Aldrin opens his hatch about noon for 2-hour 20-minute session of photographing the stars and performing simple tasks.

Sunday: Stepping into space
on a 25-foot lifeline, Aldrin first hooks up the still-joined Gemini and Agena with a 100-foot cord stowed on the Agena. He practices moving about with the handrails and performs tasks
such as making electrical connections and loosening bolts at a "work bench." After the two-hour walk, Lovell separates from the Agena and pulls taut
the 100-foot line between the two vehicles in a fuel-saving formation-flying test.

Monday: Aldrin opens his hatch for a 40-minute photography session. Rest of the day is devoted to experiments.

Tuesday: Lovell and Aldrin
photograph a sodium vapor cloud spewed across the sky by a French rocket launched in Algeria. They fire retro-rockets over Pacific and land in the Atlantic about 700 miles southeast of Cape Kennedy after flight of 94 hours, 37 minutes.

The final Gemini flight will clear the way for the first earth-orbit flight of a three-man Apollo moonship. NASA had hoped to send the first crew into space in December for a trip of up to 14 days. But problems with the spacecraft delayed the maiden flight until early next year, with
Jan. 17 the current planning date.

TWO VIEWS OF THE MOON are snapped simultaneously by Lunar Orbiter's cameras with separate highand medium-resolution lenses. The large lens at left is designed to pick up high-resolution shots showing surface details as small as three feet across. The smaller, wide-angle lens at right makes medium-resolution exposures with 24-foot objects the smallest registered details. The second lunar photographic satellite, Lunar Orbiter II, is programmed for an orbit at times only 25 miles above the surface in the quest for suitable landing sites for the coming manned moon voyage.

A bright, clean concrete street makes your house a better home

Nothing else sets off a pleasant new neighborhood like attractive concrete streets. They start out good looking and stay that way. No softening in summer heat, no patching needed every spring. No surface treatments that leave tars
to stick on wheels and shoes.

And concrete is laid flat to stay flat and smooth-riding. It never gets potholed and rippled. There is always good drainage. All this—plus exceptional safety, too.

Concrete's grainy surface offers dependable skid resistance, wet or dry... makes it easier to keep cars under control.

Light colored concrete reflects
more light, gives much higher visibility at night than any dark surface. And fewer light fixtures are needed to give the whole area a well-lighted look.

Concrete streets can be designed to last 50 years, yet initial cost is moderate. Upkeep costs stay low.

If you're planning to buy or build a new house, choose one on a modern concrete street. You will always be glad you did.

JONES-HICKEY VOWS EXCHANGED

Mary Carol Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse E. Jones of Route 1 Emmet, became the bride of Harry Lewis Hickey, son of Mr. and Mrs. H.F. Hickey, Jr. of Route 2 Emmet at 3:00 p.m. at Forrest Hill Baptist church on September 4, 1966. Rev. Johnny Walraven performed the Catholic ceremony before baskets of yellow glads with yellow candles forming an arch. Also used were bronze mums and pompoms. The music was provided by Mr. Edward Cooper of Emmet. Mrs. Keith Hicks, sister of the bride, sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "More".

Ushers were Jesse Royce of Hope, brother of the bride and Clovis Hicks, brother-in-law of the bride. Candle lighters were Miss Tammy Hickey, sister of the groom and Richard Hickey, cousin of the groom.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie applique with Chantilly lace. The basque bodice had a bateau neckline and long pointed sleeves. The shoulder length tulle veil was attached to a large white peau de soie bow. The bride carried a bouquet of autumn flowers. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace.

Mrs. Shirley Jaslin sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of yellow embossed peau de soie and carried a bouquet of autumn flowers.

Miss Katie Sue Jones of Texas City, Texas and Mrs. Lajuan Thompson of Oralo, Texas sisters of the bride were the bridesmaids.

Mrs. Jones, mother of the bride wore a beige lace dress with matching accessories and had a yellow and bronze corsage. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a blue and white dress with accessories and wore a corsage of white mums.

After the ceremony, the bride changed into a gold suit and pinned a corsage from the bouquet to her shoulder.

The bride is now living in Emmet. Mr. Hickey is in basic training, at Ft. Polk, La.

LILAC GARDEN CLUB MEETS

The Lilac Garden Club of Hope went to Blevins and the home of Mrs. P.C. Stephens for its meeting on Wednesday, November 9. "Making Modern Christmas Arrangements" was the name of the illustrated talk which Mrs. J.W. Walker brought to the club.

Presiding over the business meeting was Mrs. B.W. Edwards, club president. Mrs. Stephens and her co-hostesses, Mrs. N.P. Nesbitt and Mrs. Lella Jordan, served a salad plate and coffee to 10 during the refreshment hour.

POTLUCK SHOWER HONORS COUPLE

On Saturday evening, November 5, the congregation of the 5th and Grady St. Church of Christ honored Miss Sherry Lynn Burke Jimmy L. Minton, with a family potluck-shower combination in the club house of the Experiment Station. The tables were covered with cloths in the wedding motif, and beautiful arrangements of roses were set. The honoree was attired in a two piece blue wool dress, and a corsage of white carnations was pinned at her shoulder.

After a delicious meal was enjoyed, the bride and groom-elect were presented with many useful gifts. Assisting the couple in the opening of the gifts were Misses Gloria Martin and Nancy Aaron of Texarkana, and Miss Linda Arrington of Magnolia. Helping to dispense hospitality also were Mrs. Louise Martin and Mrs. Mary Lavender. Approximately eighty people enjoyed the evening of fellowship.

RUTH CLASS MEETS

The Ruth Class of the First Baptist Church met Tuesday night Nov. 8 in the home of their teacher, Mrs. P.L. Perkins. The business session was conducted by the class president, Mrs. Cecil Clark. The devotional was brought by Mrs. P.L. Perkins on "How to Study the Bible."

The hostess, assisted by Mrs. Cecil Clark and Mrs. R.M. Jones served cake, nuts, coffee, and ent.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — What hath James Bond wrought? The return of the series movie, for one thing.

Two and three decades ago, every studio had its series — films with the same characters that could be counted on to bolster the annual product. The most successful was MGM's Hardy family.

The series began in 1937 with "You're Only Young Once," which proved so popular that a sequel was ordered. The Hardy films made millions and helped develop such new stars as Lana Turner, Judy Garland, Donna Reed and Esther Williams. The series ended after the war when twice-married Mickey Rooney as Andy Hardy seemed too mature to be getting fatherly advice from the old judge, Lewis Stone.

Series films disappeared from the movie scene in the wake of television. The studios reasoned that audiences saw enough continuing characters on the home screen. But the intrepid 007 changed all that.

The Bond pictures have proved fantastically successful. According to Variety, domestic rental fees to United Artists have risen successively: "Dr. No," $4,655,000; "From Russia With Love," $8,400,000; "Goldfinger," $19,700,000. The returns from "Thunderball" are estimated at $25 million from this country; an equal amount is expected from overseas.

Naturally other studios sought to cash in on the Bondomania. Fox unleashed James Coburn as "Our Man Flint," and the results were amazing: an estimated $14 to 15 million worldwide gross. "In Like Flint" has now been filmed, and another Flint flick is in the works.

Columbia cast Dean Martin as Matt Helm in "The Silencers" and Martin happily reports a $9 million gross. He recently completed another Helm epic, "Murderer's Row," and a half-dozen more are planned.

Universal has brought back Bulldog Drummond with some modern touches in "Deadlier than the Male." The movie stars Richard Johnson and may spark a series.

Most of the new series produce only a film a year. It was different in the old days. The most prolific studio of all was Monogram, which poured forth endless numbers of Bowery Boys, Joe Palooka, Maggie and Jiggs and other series.

Fox countered MGM's hit series with the Jones family, but the Joneses couldn't keep up with the Hardys. Also from the Fox stable: Charlie Chan, Cisco Kid, Mr. Belvedere. MGM had BLouses bow in for holiday wear with both skirts and pants suits. The dandy look of the many-ruffled shirt by Gregory (left) has nylon lace cascade at the neck, down the front and at the sleeve edge. WHAT IS A SERVICE MAN?

Dear Helen:
I like the enclosed essay so much that I'm sending it on to you. The author is unknown, but I'm sure that if he reads it in your column, he will feel the greatest satisfaction... or perhaps he will identify himself so that we can all pat him on the back.
GAL WITH A GUY IN VIETNAM

THE SERVICE MAN

Between the security of childhood and the insecurity of adulthood, we find an interesting object of humanity called The Service Man. He comes in assorted sizes, weights, and heights.

He can be found in bars, or on leave, on ships, on base, in love, and in debt. A Service Man is bravery with a tattooed arm, and protector of his country with the latest copy of Playboy!

He has the energy of a turtle the slowness of the fox, the stories of an admiral, the sincerity of a liar, and the aspirations of a Casanova. When he wants something it usually has to do with a pass card. Some of his likes are: babes, women, females, girls and the opposite sex. His dislikes are: answering letters, getting up early, K. P., the food at the mess hall, and work.

No one can cram things into a locker as a Service Man can: a little black book, a few packs of crushed cigarettes, the remains of last month's pay, a picture of his best girl, and a can opener.

A Service Man is a magical creature; you can lock him out of your home, but not out of your heart. He can be removed from your writing list, but not from your hopes and dreams. You might as well give up! He's your far-away-from-home lover; your one and only blurry-eyed bundle of man.

Your dreams become reality when your Service Man comes home to you once again, and says, "Hi ya, Honey. I love you!"

BOYFRIEND BARS BARS FOR BELLE

Dear Helen:
my boyfriend lives 80 miles away and we can only see each other on weekends. We are both adults. During the week I like to go out with my girl friend and we stop at this bar where all our friends go. We sit around, talk, and have a few drinks. We all have a lot of fun and very seldom do we get in trouble.

My opinion doesn't matter. What counts is your boyfriend's opinion, that is, if you want to keep him. A long-distance romance can't stand too many arguments: win this one and you may lose him to an old-fash-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — They crossed "Alice in Wonderland" with "The Wizard of Oz" and then borrowed unblushingly from other enchanted sources. The result Sunday night was an NBC special called "Alice Through the Looking Glass."

But that result, in spite of a misleading title that will infuriate Lewis Carroll lovers, was a gay, imaginative 90 minutes of thoroughly enjoyable fantasy.

Albert Simmons, credited with adapting the Victoria classic, obviously felt no restraints. His contemporary Alice — young Judi Rolin was a perfect composite of Carroll's Alice and Frank Baum's Dorothy — went off on her dream adventures after being banished from a very modern cocktail party.

There were a lot of star names around and a number of particularly handsome production numbers.

It was a very happy time for children and adults alike. But that the silly laugh track and the ghostly sound of applause from an unseen audience were unnecessary and actively annoying.

Robert Coote and Agnes Moorehead were properly overwhelming as the Red King and Queen. Nanette Fabray clowning ferociously as the White Queen. Jimmy Durante was — well, Jimmy Durante playing Humpty Dumpty.

CBS' first National Geographic Society special of the season on Saturday, "Dr. Leakey and the Dawn of Man" undertook to show the discovery by a Kenya-based husband and wife team of anthropologists, Louis and Mary Leakey, of preliminary evidence that the cradle of man was Africa rather than Asia as previously believed. Theirs was a dramatic story of a 30-year search for evidence. But as an hour television program, it was considerably less than a success. In the course of the 60 minutes there was available about only 15 minutes of meaningful visual material. The rest was filler.

A pretty California girl was eventually chosen as "Miss Teenage America" in a 90 minute CBS show Saturday night. It seemed to be much longer than that. The young contestants were all right, but those adult celebrities seemed to be tripping over each other's lines.

CBS' "Run, Buddy, Run," a frail comedy that promptly hit the Nielsen rocks, was abandoned over the weekend. It will be replaced Jan. 9 by another comedy, "Mr. Terrific," about a gas station attendant who becomes a superhero after taking a special pill.

ABC has decided that "The Avengers," a British-made secret agent series, will replace "12 O'clock High" when it departs shortly after New Year's Day.

STUDENTS SEEKING WRONG CAREERS

JAI PUR, India (AP) — Rajasthan state school authorities have a problem. Recent tests showed that 92 per cent of the state's university students were seeking careers for which they had neither the ability nor the aptitude.

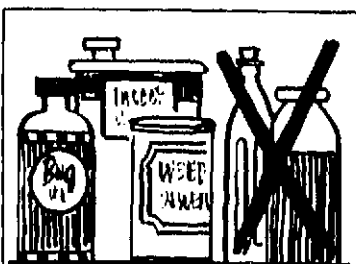

BATTLE OF HASTINGS inspired this headgear by London milliner Simone Mirman. Golden mesh underlines a cap of coin sequins to shape the helmetlike hat.

Didn't Want the Prints That Way

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — They may be perfect fingerprints, but Police Chief Rodman Scott would be happier without them. A man being booked to serve 40 days for disorderly conduct and contempt of court unexpectedly remarked, "If the chief wants my fingerprints, he can have them."

With that, he neatly pressed his inked fingers onto Scott's new white hat, lying on a nearby counter.

Sir William Henry Bragg and his son, William Lawrence Bragg, received the Nobel Prize in physics in 1915.

PALPITATION By Dr. CHARLES JOHNSON
Palpitation is a rapid, forceful, and irregular action of the heart of which the patient is uncomfortable conscious. Palpitation occurs as a motor neuron imbalance between the heart's vagal and sympathetic nerve innervation. There is vertigo and flashes of light before the eyes. The patient is conscious of the forceful pounding within the chest. These attacks may last a few minutes to an hour or more. The palpitation patient should seek Chiropractic Care to regulate this unbalanced nerve function to the heart action.

NEW CONCERT HALL
BERGEN, Norway (AP) - A concert hall which Composer Edward Grieg first proposed in 1894 is now being planned for construction here in its birthplace city by 1970.
The arts center opening would be a part of Bergen's 900th anniversary celebration. Asmund Ofteidal, managing director of the Bergen International Festival, said the building has been designed by Knud Munk, a Danish architect.

(Advance) NEW YORK, Oct. 29 (AP) - Here is a new, soft cover, pocket size book that is one of the most remarkable examples of contemporary publishing. On its front cover, in red letters, is the title "Good News For Modern Man."

It is only when you look below that you see "The New Testament - Today's English Version." And on the spine of the book is the label "New Testament," with the letters "TEV."

This is not the King James Version, nor the "R.S.V." (Revised Standard Version). It is the New Testament in 1966's "common" English, told in short words that may be comprehended by readers (whether English is their first or second language) whose literacy level is roughly that of the grade school.

Its main purpose is to communicate. It has none of the poetic, literary grandeur of the King James version. It simply talks in print.

An example: "Our Father in heaven: 'May your name be kept holy. 'May your kingdom come, 'May your will be done on earth as it is in heaven. 'Give us today the food we need; 'Forgive us what we owe you as we forgive what others owe us; 'Do not bring us to hard testing, but keep us safe from the Evil One.'"

It is a product of the American Bible Society, now 150 years old, which devotes itself to dissemination of the Scriptures. The Society has aided many translations into scores of languages. This is the first time it has produced, on its own, a translation into English. It is based upon a new Greek text which the Society published last May, after 10 years of work by an international committee of scholars.

The Society, aiming at a goal of 10 million readers, hoping to make their regular Bible readers, has priced the edition at 25 cents, and is distributing it through churches and missionaries.

To achieve communication with all economic and social groups, it has underplayed eloquence in favor of plain, everyday words that carry a basic message. The use of the ancient measures and descriptions into modern talk.

For example, in Acts 3, a mention of "at the hour of prayer, being the ninth hour" becomes "at three o'clock in the afternoon, the hour for prayers." And when Paul is describing, in Acts 27, a violent storm which threatened to throw a ship upon the rocks, the figures of 20 and 15 fathoms are converted to 120 feet and 90 feet.

This translation, designed to be used both here and abroad, was made by a member of the Society's staff, Dr. Robert G. Bratcher, aided by several Biblical scholars. Another member of the staff, the Rev. Dr. Eugene A. Nida, says "We have used simpler versions in other languages overseas, because people have different levels of education and comprehension. Now we have a popular English version understood here and abroad."

New Group of Nuns Is Charming

MEDICAL MISSION SISTERS listen to a playback of their recording, "Joy Is Like the Rain."

By MARY CAMPBELL
AP Newsfeatures Writer

DO YOU RECALL the charm of "Dominique" sung by Sister Smile, the Singing Nun?

Well, the same kind of charm - and just as much - comes from the new long-playing record, "Joy Is Like the Rain," sung by 11 nuns from Philadelphia.

The collection is original folk-type songs, simple and sweet without being too simple or too sweet. The voices are pure and joyful - exactly what we like to hear from a group of nuns. We fondly imagine that all nuns sing as intimately as those in "The Sound of Music," though we know that some sing flat.

The songs are varied in tune and subject.

The title song gives a little sermon, using nature. "I saw Christ in the wind and thunder, joy is tried by rain."

One of the most catchy has as its chorus:

"It's a beautiful morning, a winding steep and high. "But when you walk in love with the wind on your wing "And cover the earth with the song you sing."

"The miles fly by," and the bouncy "Ten Lepers" are taken from Bible stories. "God Gives His People Strength" is, as it sounds, a song of assurance, and "The Wedding Banquet" - "I cannot come to the banquet, don't trouble me now" - is an admonition not to become "too busy" for God.

The recording company is Avant Garde Records, 250 W. 57th St., New York, N.Y.

The Singers are Medical Mission Sisters, whose American headquarters is Philadelphia. (general headquarters, Rome) The order, founded in 1925 in Washington, D.C., maintains 22 hospitals in poverty areas of Africa, Asia, Latin America and the United States. Its members are doctors, nurses, pharmacists and technicians.

Since the recording was made, Sister Jessica, who played the guitar, has gone to Viet Nam as an X-ray technician and Sister Rachel, who played the tabla (Indian drums), has gone to Holy Family Hospital in Dacca, East Pakistan.

Author of the words and music on the album is Sister Miriam Therese Winter. Royalties from the recording will go into the treasury of the order.

OLD AND NEW in farming are shown together on the Roy Humphrey farm near Grand Pass, Mo. In the foreground is a machine labeled "Dain's Safety Corn Cutter, Ottumwa, Iowa," which has two blades that fold out. The mule walks between two rows of corn and operators catch the cornstalks as the blades cut them off. The stalks are then stacked into corn shocks. The modern combine in the background has a six-row corn head and picks and shells corn in a single operation.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Allergies Are Controllable
By Drugs and Proper Caution
By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—When my daughter-in-law gets very nervous she breaks out with hives. Her doctor is giving her pills for her nerves but she still has hives. What causes this?
A—Since hives is usually due to a food allergy your daughter-in-law should see an allergist to find out to what she is sensitive. He will also look for sensitivity to various drugs and cosmetics and exposure to the sun. As with other allergies, avoiding the cause is the best treatment.

Q—I am allergic to tree pollens and molds. My doctor says there is no treatment but to continue weekly shots for the rest of my life. Prior to starting the shots I took antihistamines for three years. They seemed to do as good a job as the shots for less money. What do you advise?
A—If you can't avoid or remove the cause of your allergy there is no reason why you should not use antihistamines to control your symptoms but the dosage must be carefully regulated to prevent such side effects as drowsiness and mental depression.

Q—Every summer for 9 years I have had severe attacks of hay fever. What causes it? Can it be cured? I am taking Dimetane. Is it of any value?
A—Hay fever is caused by an allergy to pollens. The chief offender is ragweed but you should have tests to determine the exact cause in your case. Hay fever cannot be cured but desensitizing injections taken every year well in advance of the pollen season will control it. Brompheniramine maleate (Dimetane) is one of many antihistamines that are of value in providing temporary relief of hay fever symptoms.

Q—In a recent column you stated that it is difficult but not impossible to get enough proteins in a diet that contains no proteins of animal origin. Can I rely on a prepared 900-calorie diet for this purpose?
A—Since these preparations contain milk proteins they will not help. That leaves high-protein vegetables, soybean products and nuts. I warned you it wouldn't be easy.

Q—My daughter, 14, is in an institution for the mentally retarded. They are giving her Benadryl for an allergy. What kind of allergy would it be used for? They are also giving her Thorazine. Is this

A letter from Detroit reads, "My partner opened the king of clubs against South's six-spade contract. South reviewed the bidding and then proceeded to play just as if he had looked right into our hands. He took dummy's ace of clubs and ace of trumps. Then he cashed the three top hearts and discarded two of his clubs. His next play was the jack of diamonds. I covered with the king. He cashed the ace and queen and ruffed his last diamond. Then he ruffed a heart, got back to dummy with the queen of hearts and led another heart. I ruffed. He discarded his last club and claimed his contract. I objected vehemently to my partner's opening club bid. He didn't like my double. We are still fighting. Can you settle our argument?"

It seems rather appropriate to answer this letter today. I only hope that we can produce an armistice.

We don't approve of West's opening club bid. It belongs to that class of opening bids called psychics. It is designed to fool the opponents but the trouble with such bids is that they fool partners also and when you fool your partner he will become afraid of your correct opening bids.

On the other hand East's double was far worse. He must have realized that there was something wrong with his partner's opening bid. In that case six spades might be makable. In such situations we follow a basic rule which is that when our opponents bid a game or slam under their own steam we never double when we may be jeopardizing the setting trick. South could have made the slam without the double but he shouldn't have.

That could threaten the Owls Club.

Q—The bidding has been:

You, South, hold:

What do you do?

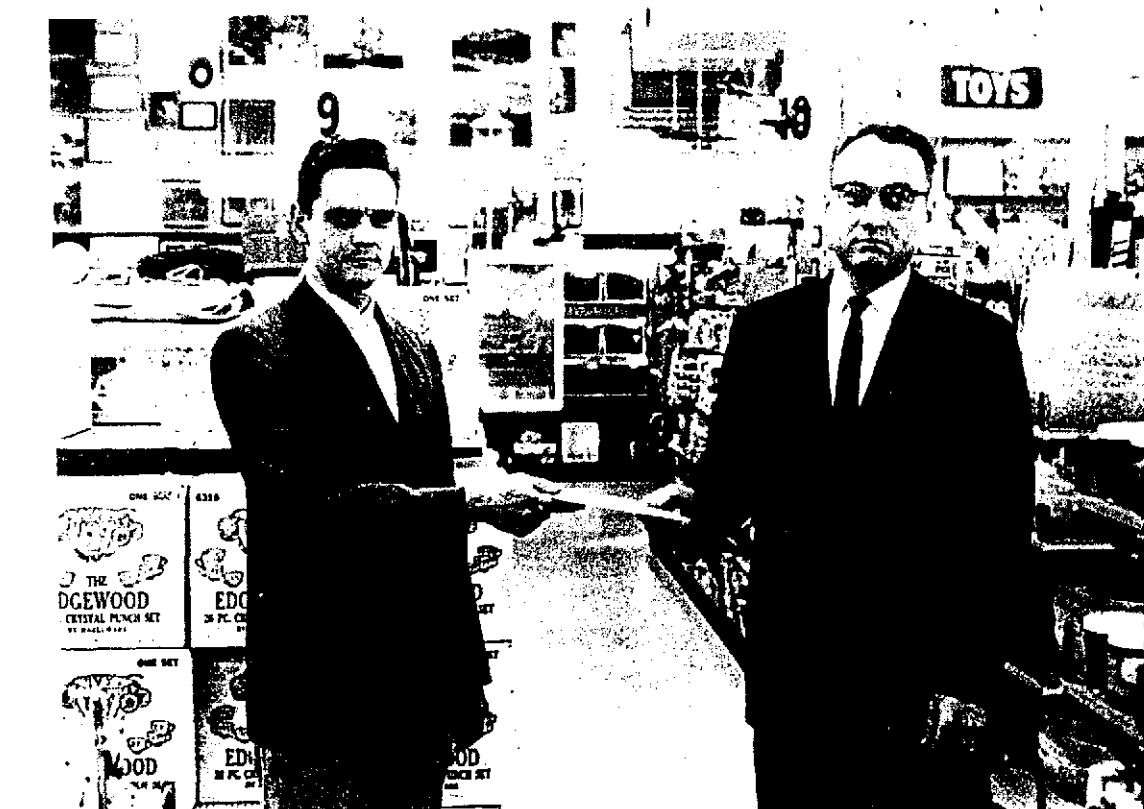

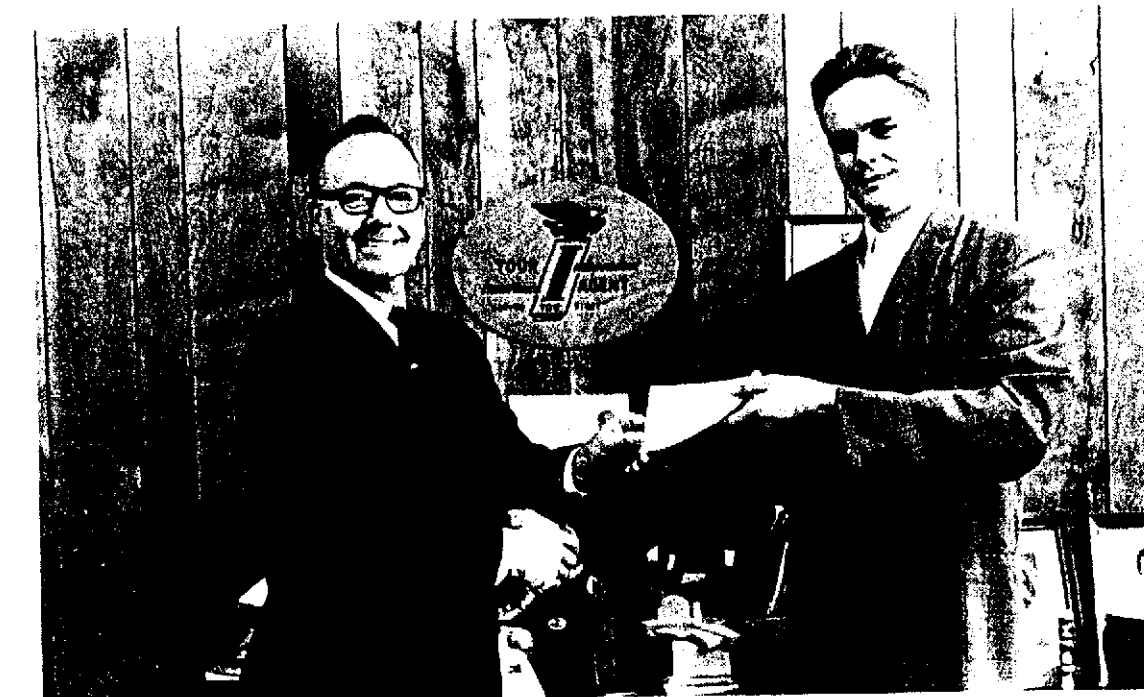

A—Pass. Your partner prefers hearts to no-trump and you should defer to his judgment.

Jackie Mason Probe Closed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — The Clark County sheriff's office has closed its investigation of comedian Jackie Mason's report that someone tried to kill him by firing three pistol shots into the bed in his hotel room.

Accounts of witnesses were contradictory, a spokesman said Wednesday, and no basis was found for Mason's allegation that someone tried to kill him last weekend.

Bypassed Red Generation Is Restless

HONG KONG (AP) — China's bypassed generation is stirring restlessly.

Young men beyond the age of 20 dislike the prospect of what they see as a strange alliance between the old and the very young, suggests one of them, a young, former Red Chinese army officer who fled the mainland only two years ago.

The very old are the top leaders of the Politburo. Their average age is somewhere above 60. The very young are the teen-age Red Guards, the rampaging youngsters the old men are using today as a political weapon.

In between is a generation bypassed in a grim power struggle at the top in Peking. That generation includes the many millions in the Young Communist League. It is now virtually dismantled, probably because its members were too mature to be used in the way the Red Guards are used to push what the new leaders, headed by Defense Minister Lin Biao, call the "great proletarian cultural revolution."

The young officer said there was no question in his mind but that Red China now is in deep crisis and that if it continues on its present course it could lead to collapse of the regime. But, knowing his Chinese brethren, he did not feel that the regime would collapse. When the danger became too acute, he predicted, there would be a compromise.

Much of what is going on — and has been going on for some years now in the slowly unfolding power struggle — is unpopular, he said. But one development is generally welcomed among the Chinese.

"It was good to get rid of the Russians," he said with an air of grim satisfaction. "It was good to get rid of foreign domination."

If he is a sample of Chinese thinking, there never was any love for the Russians. Even his fellow officers, he said, welcomed the split although some professionals regretted the loss of Soviet military assistance.

Speaking through an interpreter, the ex-officer said that when he left mainland China he felt the people were not happy, that they were hoping for political and economic changes. Mostly, the literate element wanted less restrictions on their individual lives.

The Chinese people in general, he said, did not think highly of the Communists or communism, but didn't think highly of the Americans either. His friends tended to believe that Americans were aggressors and that they were threatening China's security.

Gradually, he seemed sure, China would pull out of its present state of chaos. And gradually, too, he added, China will develop its own system, even though it might be a Communist system.

"Marxism is outdated," he snorted. "Mao Tse-tung is no Marxist. For a Chinese to say he is Marxist-Leninist is to talk nonsense. Marxism-Leninism is a foreign idea. If there is going to be communism, it should be Chinese communism."

would never be governor of Arkansas," Johnson said. He said that Faubus was predicting his defeat on the day before the election.

So where does the Democratic Party go now that it is the minority party for the first time in 94 years?

"I intend to assume responsibility for the leadership of the party which was thrust on me as the Democratic nominee," he said. "I feel I have an obligation to do this. We're not going to turn the party over to those defectors in the ultra-liberal element."

He would not identify the "ultra liberals" nor those whom he believed scuttled the party.

Johnson probably will face a fight for party leadership. Several groups are expected to bid for control with possible leaders being Joe Purcell, the attorney general-elect; Joe Basore, the party's state campaign manager; Faubus, who did not relinquish party reins entirely when he decided not to seek a seventh term, and a faction from the Young Democrats.

Johnson, who has bounced back from defeat before, obviously did not consider himself dead politically. He made it clear that he will again seek office in the future, probably two years from now.

He said he will spend the last of his campaign money to run a "thank you" advertisement in daily newspapers Sunday and in weekly newspapers next week.

The ads, he said, will show him and his family and will carry the caption, "We almost had a governor in the family."

This, he said, was what he had said to bolster his father's spirits when it became obvious that he was beaten.

Just two days after the election, Johnson was able to joke about his defeat, which must have been a tremendous disappointment. He had groomed himself for this race for 10 years. He put an incredible amount of energy into it, cutting television tapes at 2 a.m. and 3 a.m. so that he would not lose time for stumping.

Johnson said he has not had time to think about his immediate future. "I assume I'll practice law," he said. He plans to continue to live at Conway rather than returning to Crossett, his home before he was elected to the state Supreme Court in 1958.

Other factors which Johnson believes contributed to his defeat:

"For the first time in the history of this state, they got the colored vote out."

"Three years of intensive organization with unlimited financing is the reason Winthrop Rockefeller is governor today."

Johnson, whose hands bears huge calluses from handshaking, said he was handicapped because he had to work so hard while Rockefeller "only had to worry about whether he pronounced the words right that someone else wrote for him."

Johnson said Arkansas could reap one benefit from election of Rockefeller.

"A healthy separation of powers may result," he said. "The legislature may assume the responsibility that the constitution envisioned for it without being so dependent on the executive."

Treaties with the Indian tribes were made by the federal government and states cannot interfere with these treaty rights.

Belgium Police Workers Strike

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — Police joined Belgian municipal workers today in a 24-hour strike for better pay.

The Port of Ghent was paralyzed. Strikers in Antwerp threatened to cut off electricity to the port because some traffic was still in the sea locks.

Spokesmen for the three striking unions — Socialist, Catholic and Liberal — said 95 per cent of the municipal workers had joined the strike.

Miraculous Switch in Agriculture of South Arkansas

When this writer came to Hope from El Dorado in 1929 Hempstead county had a cotton crop of 32,000 bales including a world-famous long-staple variety that was quoted on the Liverpool (England) Exchange.

Today cotton is extinct in Hempstead and most of the Southwest Arkansas counties—but our farmers are vastly better off without it.

County Agent Calvin Caldwell authored a story in The Star Oct. 27 reporting that Hempstead is the only county in the Third Congressional District with 10 million dollars annual farm income. Howard is second with 9½ million, and Nevada third with 8 million, according to the latest federal census.

Our fame as a premium-quality cotton producer is eclipsed but the agriculture of our section, starting from scratch, has won prominence with relatively new crops.

When I came here in 1929 Roy Anderson and other community leaders were seeking diversification and promoting the cow-sow-and-hen program to compete with cotton.

Today Hempstead is one of the handful of counties which lead all of Arkansas in the production of poultry and eggs, and beef cattle. Our neighbor Howard county slightly runs ahead of us in poultry, we rank ahead of Howard in eggs—and both are major beef producers.

And soy beans is today's field crop which rivals the cotton of nearly 40 years ago.

An amazing story of the versatility and success of Southwest Arkansas' farming effort...

Veteran's Day Tributes Over Nation

By GAYLORD SHAW
WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation pays solemn tribute today to the 35.7 million veterans—living and dead—of wars from the Revolution to Viet Nam.

In a ceremony that has become symbolic of Veterans Day observances, Gen. Wallace M. Greene, Marine Corps commandant representing President Johnson, places a wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldiers in Arlington National Cemetery. There, on a hillside overlooking Washington, and in other cemeteries from coast to coast, the living honor the dead with booming gun salutes, the muffled roll of drums, the playing of taps and a moment of silence.

In cities and villages across the country, many of America's 26 million living veterans gather for parades and speeches. For many workers and students it is a holiday.

It was 48 years ago—at 11 a.m. on Nov. 11, 1918—that guns fell silent on the Western Front and the armistice ending World War I went into effect.

In 1919 President Woodrow Wilson proclaimed Nov. 11 as Armistice Day to remind Americans of the tragedies of war. In 1954, Congress changed the name to Veterans Day to honor those who fought in all of America's wars.

Other countries, such as Great Britain and France, also observe Nov. 11 as Armistice Day. And in the Arlington ceremonies, officials of six foreign embassies—Belgium, France, Britain, Israel, Italy and Mexico—present flaming torches as a tribute from their countries.

Canada Impasse Holds Up Pay

OTTAWA (AP) — An estimated 100,000 federal employees won't be paid for the next few days and scores of government contractors are waiting for overdue payments because of a parliamentary impasse facing Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson's minority Liberal government.

The opposition Conservatives have balked at approving a $372-million appropriation bill for November until the Liberals agree to immediate committee hearings on their controversial plan to merge the three military services.

Farm-City Week Planned in Hope

Plans for the Hope-Hempstead County observance of Farm-City Week are virtually complete, it was announced today by Autrey Wilson, Chairman of the Kiwanis Club Agriculture and Conservation Committee of Hope. Farm-City Week is an annual event sponsored by the Kiwanis Club to promote a better understanding between farm and city residents.

This year marks the eleventh observance of Farm-City Week on a national scale. Last year's observance, according to final reports received at National Headquarters, involved the active participation of more than 10,000 communities in the United States and Canada.

Farm-City Week is under the direction of a National Farm-City Week Committee headed by Chairman Robert V. Mullen, Sears Roebuck and Company, while Mr. E. T. Savage, American Bankers Association and Mr. Robert Anderson National 4-H Service Committee serves as Vice Chairman. Kiwanis International serves as coordinating agency for Farm-City Week.

The National Farm-City committee is composed of representatives from more than 150 major farm organizations, industries, businesses, associations, governmental agencies, educational institutions, and church groups. A Presidential proclamation and a joint congressional resolution have called for Farm-City Week observance each year since the inception of the event. Farm-City Week has won the freedom's foundation's distinguished service award, which carries the same distinction in the community service field as does the famous "OSCAR" in the motion picture industry and the "EMMY" in the television field.

Highlights of this year's event in Hope will be a luncheon on Tuesday, November 15, at the Town & Country Restaurant. Mr. Arnold Berner, Director of Public Relations, Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation will be the featured speaker. Guest will include Hempstead County's farm family of the year, Governmental Agriculture representatives and many leading farmers of the county. Some farm youth organizations will also attend.

Dr. Herbert Rogers, Horace Fuller and Dannie Hamilton are also serving on the committee making plans for this event.

proclamation
WHEREAS the prosperity and well being of this community are dependent upon cooperation between the two great elements of our society: farmers and urban people, and

WHEREAS the complexities of their individual problems and the divergence of their activities have led to a widening gulf of misunderstanding, and

WHEREAS this gulf of misunderstanding must be eliminated, and each group must understand the other if our American (Canadian) way of life is to endure, and

WHEREAS Farm-City Week provides an unparalleled opportunity for farm and city people to become re-acquainted,

I, THEREFORE, John B. Gardner Jr., Mayor of the City of Hope Arkansas, do hereby proclaim the period of November 13 through November 19 to be Farm-City Week; and I do further call upon all citizens of this community to participate to the limit of their capability in the joint visits civic, and social events attendant to a successful Farm-City Week in Hope.

Done at the City of Hope, Arkansas, this November 8, 1966.

Johnson Feels His Defeat Was Due to a Faubus Backlash

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Jim Johnson attributed his defeat today to a "Faubus backlash" and made it clear that he intends to try to maintain the leadership in the Democratic Party that he gained by winning the primary election.

"I have no intention of relinquishing the party to people who scuttled it," the defeated candidate for governor told The Associated Press in an exclusive interview, the first he has granted since the election Tuesday.

Johnson showed the strain of seven months of campaigning, but he was relaxed, in apparent good spirits, displaying no bitterness about his defeat.

"We (he and his wife Virginia) did everything that two people could do," he said. "There was not a thing on earth that I could have done (to win) that I didn't do."

The Faubus backlash, Johnson said, resulted from his request for support from Gov. Orval Faubus and all Democrats. "I had convinced the voters that I would clean up the capitol," he said. "After this, there was a fear that I might not do it."

The fear developed even though he reminded listeners in every speech that, party unity notwithstanding, there were some rascals at the capitol and he intended to throw them out. Johnson does not say that he blames Faubus for his defeat, but he left an impression that he felt that way.

"Orval Faubus knew where he talked when he pounded the table and said Jim Johnson

Fight on for Control of Demo Party

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Joe Purcell, the only Democratic candidate for state constitutional office that is assured of victory against the Republicans, plans to seek the leadership of the state Democratic party, the Arkansas Gazette reported today.

The Gazette quoted "reliable sources" as saying that Purcell met with some of his supporters Thursday afternoon to discuss his taking over party leadership when Tuesday's general election vote is certified.

The paper said Purcell was reported to be ready to contend with Joe Basore, the Democratic campaign manager in the election, for party control. The Gazette said Basore also would attempt to take over of the party reins and that Purcell was said to be dissatisfied with his handling of the Democratic campaign.

Purcell said the meeting Thursday afternoon was held to discuss closing his campaign headquarters in Little Rock and "other matters pertaining to my role as the new attorney general of Arkansas."

The newspaper said it was reported that Purcell, as attorney general, would be in position "to crystallize Democratic dissent" to the programs of Republican governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller.

Purcell said Thursday in a victory statement that he would "serve without fear or favor to advance the best interests of our state."

DAR Selects Good Citizen Girls 1967

At its November meeting this week at Heritage House, DAR members had as special guests, Miss Jean Powell of Lewisville and Miss Beth Lawrence of Hope who represent their schools as the organization's Good Citizen girls for 1967.

They were introduced by Mrs. McDowell Turner who sketched, "This is Your Life" of each girl. Miss Powell spoke briefly on dependability while Miss Lawrence discussed patriotism. Both received Good Citizen pins.

Mrs. Richard Howard discussed many improvements which have been made on Constitution Hall, Washington, D.C., including air conditioning.

Formal reopening of the hall was highlighted by the National Symphony Orchestra concert. Mrs. Charles Taylor gave a talk on national defense and Mrs. Gordon Tyer read the minutes.

Mrs. Arthur Wimmell reported that a large shipment of clothing had been sent to Kate Duncan Smith, one of two accredited Southern Mountain schools financed by the DAR. This clothing is either used or sold to families at a nominal sum by the girls.

Guests were Mrs. J.B. Powell and Mrs. L.T. Lawrence, mothers of the girls and Mrs. David Waddle. A Thanksgiving luncheon was served by hostesses, Mrs. Gordon Tyer, Mrs. J. Howard Waddle, Mrs. Arthur Wimmell and Mrs. Charles Haynes.

Plane With 19 Aboard Down at Sea

BOSTON (AP) — The Coast Guard said a four-engine Air Force Constellation carrying a crew of 19 is believed to have "ditched" in the Atlantic early today about 125 miles east of Nantucket Island.

The Coast Guard at Boston said the EC121H radar plane left Otis Air Force Base in Massachusetts at 12:35 a.m. EST on a routine air defense mission.

Ground radar contact with the plane was lost shortly after 1:22 a.m., the Coast Guard added.

A spokesman said a fishing vessel reported seeing an aircraft enter the water at 1:30 a.m.

AEA Plan Attacked by School Group

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The secretary of the Arkansas Rural Education Association said Thursday the state Education Department's proposed quality education program "smacks of renewal of the consolidation fight."

James A. Martin, superintendent of Beedeville schools in Jackson County, said he believed that Tuesday's election results showed "that we are not ready at this time for complete dictatorial policies by any branch of our state government, whether it be in education or other political fields."

The AREA led the fight against proposed Initiative Act No. 1, which would have required the consolidation of schools with less than 400 pupils. The proposal was defeated Tuesday.

State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said Wednesday the department was working on a proposal that would set out minimum standards for quality education and would require the merger of schools unable to afford to give students quality education regardless of size.

Ford said the proposal was to be submitted to the 1967 legislature.

Commission Raps Back at Rockefeller

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Members of the Arkansas Highway Commission said Thursday they were mystified by governor-elect Winthrop Rockefeller's statement that the Highway Department had a $46 million surplus.

Commission Chairman Wayne Hampton asked Rockefeller to explain the figure. Hampton said the department's appropriation for the 1965-66 fiscal year was about $132 million and expenditures were $103,090,000. He said $29,447,892 of the appropriation never became available because of lack of revenues.

Hampton said the department had a cash balance of $16,607,837 on hand at the end of the fiscal year.

Truman Baker of Searcy and Arml Taylor of Clarksville said they also were puzzled by the figure. Taylor suggested that it was given to Rockefeller by "a dissatisfied former employee of the Highway Department."

Rockefeller mentioned the figure Wednesday, calling it not a surplus but "inefficiency." He also said he assumed the commissioners "would probably want to offer this resignations."

Baker said none of the commissioners wanted to resign. Taylor said he had no intention to do so.

White Oak Lake Improvements

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Benning Construction Co. of Pine Bluff submitted the apparent low bid of $31,776 Thursday for improvements to the White Oak Lake Recreational Area near Bluff City in Nevada County and the Confederate Memorial Recreational Area near McNeil in Columbia County.

Benning was one of four companies bidding on the project.

Pilkinton to Open Law Offices Monday and Await Outcome

Judge James H. Pilkinton, Democratic candidate for Lieutenant Governor, was back home in Hope for a few hours today. He said that he would go to Fayetteville to attend the University of Arkansas-Southern Methodist Football game on Saturday, and would rest up over the weekend. Pilkinton stated that he would have nothing further to say about the race for Lieutenant Governor until the official vote is certified next week.

Judge Pilkinton said that he expected to resume the practice of law at Hope Monday, and let the political chips fall where they may. He said that he expected to confer with other Democratic leaders in Fayetteville over the week-end concerning the future of the Democratic party in Arkansas.

Judge Pilkinton was accompanied to Fayetteville by his wife and daughter, Miss Tena Pilkinton.

Children's Colony Grant Is Approved

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said Thursday the federal government would approve a $1,407,900 grant to help a $2.8 million expansion program at the Conway unit of the Arkansas Children's Colony.

Mills said the money would go toward construction of units to house and educate 316 more children.

He said that it also was hoped that the Economic Development Administration would be able to assist a program to establish additional units at Arkadelphia and elsewhere in the state.

He said the grant for the Conway unit was based on the economic needs of Faulkner County and the families whose children are on the waiting list. About 1,100 children are on the list.

Mills said the additional units would create 180 new jobs.

LBJ Fears Great Society Program Hurt

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson's announcement he will lay fewer "Great Society" proposals before a new Congress before the new Congress points toward a resurvey of the nation's domestic course.

"I think it will be more difficult for any new legislation we might propose," Johnson told a news conference at his Texas ranch Thursday in assessing the GOP gains of 47 House members and three senators in Tuesday's balloting.

Asked if he would be sending Congress many new recommendations or would concentrate on refinement and expansion of programs he has been highly successful in wrangling from the 89th Congress, the President said he would have some new proposals but fewer of them than in 1966.

He added that his principal job will be to find ways of financing programs already authorized.

Among politicians, there was general agreement that the President was recognizing the realities of a situation in which the Republicans can combine with conservative Southern Democrats to balk almost any welfare legislation they oppose.

Beyond that the revived Republicans were serving notice that it is time for a where-are-we-headed second look at the operation of antipoverty, rent supplement demonstration cities and other problems which call for future expenditure of billions of dollars.

Senate democratic leader Mike Mansfield took none of this when he said the forthcoming session of Congress should be one for "tightening up" and reviewing the measures passed in the last two years.

"It should be a time to stop, look and listen," he told newsmen.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen said there will be an accent on fiscal solvency and a "surveillance of spending."

"A good hard look will be taken at the poverty program and any other program where there may be waste or inefficiency," he said.

Not all Republicans, of course, are advocates of the kind of domestic retrenchment Dirksen might like.

Newly elected Sens. Charles H. Percy of Illinois and Mark O. Hatfield of Oregon, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, who won an elective term in Michigan, and re-elected Sens. J. Caleb Boggs of Delaware, John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky and Clifford P. Case of New Jersey kept alive the liberal minority within the GOP Senate ranks.

In the House, there appeared to be a generous sprinkling of moderate Republicans among the newly elected who would resist any efforts by the party's old guard to try to cancel the social advances made under the Democrats.

Johnson said he expects no change "in our course of action on security matters." He said he had good cooperation from the Republicans on legislation affecting the Viet Nam war and national defense generally. He indicated he expects this to continue.

While the majority of GOP members has gone along with Johnson's conduct of the war, Dirksen and House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan have made it clear they will try to pressure the President into more intensive military efforts aimed at ending the conflict.
